(TPMS) sensor helps alert you to problems with your tires. On some vehicles, a single light tells you if any of your tires are low. In more advanced systems, a display shows the pressure in each tire individually. If you have a low tire pressure alert, check the tire manually before refilling it with air.

The process begins with a signal initiator located inboard of each tire on the chassis. The initiator sends a unique signal for each TPMS sensor. Then the TPMS sensor sends tire pressure data to the TPMS ECU, which compares the values for each tire's pressure against an acceptable range of pressures.
