Basic Political Writings Rousseau

The first modern philosopher to articulate a detailed contract theory was Thomas Hobbes (1588-1679). According to Hobbes, the lives of individuals in the state of nature were "solitary, poor, nasty, brutish and short"; a state in which self-interest and the absence of rights and contracts prevented the "social", or society. Life was "anarchic" (without leadership or the concept of sovereignty).

The Great Transformation is a book by Karl Polanyi, a Hungarian-American political economist. First published in 1944 by Farrar & Rinehart, it deals with the social and political upheavals that took place in England during the rise of the market economy. Polanyi contends that the modern market economy and the modern nation-state should be understood not as discrete elements but as the single ...
